The V. V. F.'s gave their first entertainment at the home of Miss Elsie Murray Monday night. It was a very attractive, cheerful, spotted and flowery affair, as both males and females were all present in "colored" and Chinese lanterns illuminated the premises. Music and dancing and an elegant repast were on the program of the evening, and the entertainment continued almost until dawn of day. It was strictly select and very well.

It has just come to light that an excursion to the city was run from this city to Henderson last week. It looks out as if it was, but the only man in town that knew of it was Barney Bohler, and he was so afraid of being exposed, that he down just to see to it there was a fair

WE KNOW NOW

What the Directors of the L. & N. E. & T. Have Been Doing.

A Large Issue of New Bonds to be Made.

The maneuvering of the Directors of the L. & N. E. & T. about which there has been so much guessing for the last month is at last cleared up.

An issue of $5,000,000 of new first mortgage 5 per cent. bonds will soon be made by this road, and Hon. D. N. Murray is now out having the mortgage recorded in the nine counties that the road passes through, viz: Harlinsburg, Boone, Breckenridge, Hancock, Davis, Henderson, Jefferson and Wayne.

These new bonds are to help pay for the L. H. & W. which has been recently purchased, and to improve the line generally. The outstanding bonded debt of $2,800,000 on the main line, and the $800,000 on the L. H. & W. will be taken up and the new bonds will be used to supply their place. This will leave $1,000,000 to be spent together with about $800,000 in cash that is now already in the treasury of the company.

The proposed new line recently surveyed between West Point and Louisville is likely to be built and a portion of the funds realized will go for this purpose. The bonds will be disposed of in the East.

The Louisville Market.

Total sales in this market last week were 4295 hds, against 3500 hds, for corresponding week of last year. Receipts were 2495 hds, against 2062 hds, for corresponding week of last year. Receipts were 2062 hds, against 474 hds, for preceding week. Of the total sales last week 2,730 hds, were barley and 1,365 were dark.

There is no "let up" of the "boom" of the market. Notwithstanding the large offerings, the impression in the trade is that prices are steadily climbing. Buyers say the tobacco seems harder to buy each day. It requires a bid or two more this week than last. This provides, advancing tone of the market, all grades, from the lowest trash to the finest leaf. Speculators and some manufacturers are beginning to appreciate that the medium class, red leaf is likely to bring more than it has been bringing, and these grades are strong, at quotations. The gap between trash and good leaf is slowly but steadily closing.

While there has been nothing sensational fine on the breaks this week, the offerings have included a large proportion of exceedingly fine tobacco. Thirty dollars was paid at the Farmers' House Thursday, which was the highest price reached this week.

Some settling rains have fallen in some parts of the State since last report, and in some places farmers report that the crop is considerably improved. The condition is very general now, however, that no amount of rain will make anything like a full crop. Conservative estimates place it all the way from 50 to 75 per cent. of an average, with the probability of the quality being very poor—Farmers Home Journal.

A Success From the Start.

The Anne Company opened their first kiln on Friday last. The general manager, Mr. Louis Sommers, brought down one of the leading architects of Louisville, to inspect the brick as they came from the kiln, which was opened up right in the heart of the city. They both complimented Mr. Morgan, the chief engineer (son of the superintendent), upon his splendid uniform form.

Mr. Murray, the architect mentioned above, at once placed a large order into Sommers' hands for these bricks, which are to be delivered without delay. They are to be used for front work on a large and important public building.

Yield of the crops is very gratifying for Mr. Morgan, Jr., it can be no less so to Mr. Easley, of Cincinnati, the patentee of the kiln in which this burn was made.

CONCORDIA.

A PROSPEROUS LITTLE TOWN

SURROUNDED BY INDUSTRIOUS AND PROSPEROUS PEOPLE.

The Great Fruit Belt of Kentucky

And What Kind of People Live There.

As the waters of the beautiful Ohio flow along its serpentine course, forming the Northern boundary of Madison county, they pass the little village of Concordia just before they reach themselves upon the head of Flint Island. So unassuming is this little town, that a passenger on a palatial steamer, as she plows the silvery bosom in her great dear, would hardly know that she was passing a town of bustling business, surrounded by one of the most prosperous agricultural neighborhoods in this section of country.

Concordia is nicely situated in what is called the lower edge of Mende, and, as we stated before, is surrounded by industrious and prosperous farmers. Among other productions of the farm, that of fruit and wheat receive the most attention. In fact, this is called the fruit belt of Kentucky, and thousands of barrels of the finest apples in the world are shipped from this little port of Concordia every season. At this time of the year hundreds of barrels of apples and great piles of fruit are always stacked upon the wharf awaiting shipment.

In Concordia is situated the large fruit distillery of J. A. Barry, of this city, where hundreds of barrels of apple brandy are made every season. Besides this large establishment, within the radius of a few miles, are the celebrated distilleries of W. R. Birch & Son, Mills Bros. Smith & Co. and Geo. Kiger & Son, at Moxleyville, all of which turn out large quantities of good old "apple jack" which "sheds" a man's soul and under his face to shine," "qually as successfully as did the "wine and oil" of ancient times.

These manufacturing establishments, so conveniently situated give the farmer a ready and good market for all his fallen and refused fruit, and consequently there is not a dollar's worth wasted in all these hundreds of acres of orchards.

When people are prosperous, as a usual thing, you will find them charitable and hospitable, and nowhere within the boundary of this great state, so noted for her hospitality, will you find people more sociable or more ready to entertain than in this section.

Aside from labor and care, the people here also indulge in some innocent amusements; and picnics and balls are largely attended, and the amusements are not participated in by any particular class. Everybody goes and everybody sees just how good a time, and how much fun he or she can get out of a day off.

To sum it all up, there is not a more prosperous, industrious, clever, sociable neighborhood on God's green earth than that of Concordia and surrounding country.

A New Business College.

The many friends and former patrons of Prof. Enoch Spencer, for several years secretary and treasurer of the B. & S. College of Louisville, will be pleased to learn that he is now in the city of Louisville, where he has organized a new corporation which has opened in a Louisville Board of Trade Building a strictly modern and practical Business College, under the able and well known and popular name of "Spencerian." They are at the business center, connected with all the leading business interests of the country, and Prof. Spencer's reputation as a practical business educator is all that is necessary to guarantee the success of the college. We bespeak for them a good patronage from the young men and women of this vicinity who desire that quality of practical instruction, which will prepare them for good employment and success in life. See advertisement.

VINE GROVE.

The ground is very dry and crops are suffering for want of rain.

Vine grove is rapidly improving; several houses are being erected, and the ground is very dry and crops are suffering for want of rain.

Clubs Are Trumps.

The young ladies of Cloverport are about organizing a club, entitled V. V. F.—Vine Grove Temperance Frolics. We wish to explain to the young men that the world's fate is not to be translated in the sense of "society," but literally, "club," is a word which is something that all citizens in this section of the country have needed for some time and there is no doubt but it will be profitable to the stockholders.

Kaye, Hamilton & Scott have bought out Sam Kendall, of Ekron. This is one of the most enterprising and bustling firms in Western Kentucky. They took possession last week, added a lot of new goods to the stock and have a general store that cannot be beaten on the Texas.

The Mamons had a picnic here last day that was a very elegant and profitable affair. The brass band of this place furnished the music and it is generally complimented on its music. It is considered the finest of the oldest young men of the county. They have contracted to furnish the music for the Ekron fair.

Log Was Disputed.

Deputy Marshal Peate returned from Logan county yesterday as thoroughly disgusted as anybody could wish to see him. He was asked to go there with the assurance that the county was over-run by a number of loggers, and that he would have plenty assistance in catching them. When he got there he heard of a great deal of violation of the law, but when it came to the point of catching out the loggers he could only find a hundred. They were E. M. Mitchell, Chris Ricks, Tole Hadden, W. N. Dally, Jerome Tunstall and James Friday. They all had their examining trial and were released except Tole Hadden, who had to stand the trial of the court.

It is interesting to note that all the men were guilty, but it was impossible to get the evidence—Owensboro Messenger.
